

[Norman N. Kandl]

Interviewed by Gertrude S. Mulick

Jan. 21, 1936

Norman N. Kandl, 1320 Spring Street, B. 6791 Randall Park apts.

Norman N. Kandl born in [Gyer?] - one-half way between Vienna and Budapest, Hungary. Population [Gyer?], 40,000.

Mr. Kandl an architect came to Madison by chance because of his work. Then too - he bought 40 acres of land in the far north of Wisconsin where he and his wife lived in open for a year and one-half.

Madison was really the only city in the United States that he really liked, and he had been in plenty from coast to coast. Loves the country life around here - but his profession keeps him in the city. He thinks Madison considers the peoples' needs and the public more than most cities.

Mrs. Kandl's maiden name is Gizella Czeizler - but her husband changed her name to Gladys - for the spelling was easier for people here.

Mr. Kandl came here in and returned to Hungary in 1921 - and married.

Mrs. Kandl was a Hungarian German Stenographer - lived in Henes 10,000 population. but spent most of her life in Budapest, called Little Paris - she earned 4,000,000 Hungarian Crowns in 1926. She came to the States in 1927 [?]